To create a sense of activity, flexibility, and buzz to help attract and retain tenants, Equity Office engaged IA in the renovation of its 100 Summer Amenity Center. Programmatically, a large scope needed to fit within the limited space, including a coffee bar, beer and wine taps, gaming area, lounge, meeting space, and a fitness center.

Glass garage doors offer a flexible environment that enable users to tailor the space to their needs, while soft furniture and warm woods create an inviting atmosphere. The suspended rope sculpture throughout inspires connectedness and graphics tie the entire spaces together with visual interest and intuitive wayfinding. The result is an inviting space that connects various tenants and creates a new energy within the building.
